SEASONAL EVENTS

The Cork North Pole Outpost Experience is one of our yearly immersive theatrical experiences here in Cuskinny which runs from the end of November through to December 23rd.

The Cork North Pole Outpost Experience is a fun and imaginative theatrical production bringing to life the real values of a Cork good old fashioned Christmas. Every year the elves bring a truly unique experience for families. Interactive and intriguing characters, bring a curious difference to the life at Cork's only North Pole outpost. Parents are encouraged to involve themselves and play alongside their children, which makes for a fabulous and brilliantly entertaining experience for the whole family!

THE EXPERIENCE

Come to our secret location and be welcomed by our festive greeter elves who will escort you on foot, to our busy outpost, where you will begin your Elf in training (E.I.T) programme

Our experience takes place entirely indoors within a 200-year-old Victorian house.

Wake the sleepy elves up and help them do their daily workshop warm up routine – have your voice ready as this usually involves singing silly songs...

No time to waste – Christmas Eve is coming and there is work to be done in our workshop. as an E.I.T (Elf in Training) you will need to help to design, test and build wooden toys! You may even get to make a souvenir to bring home!

Now that you have been through the practical training stage – Elf University is next where you learn the ropes of being a cork elf – rumour has it that the head Elf inspector is paying a surprise visit this year so make sure you pay attention in class!

After all that hard work see what festive treats Mrs. Claus is baking in her Christmas Kitchen and decorate your own cookie, whilst parents can enjoy some complimentary festive refreshments too!

Finally – end your experience with a special message from Santa followed by a private family visit in his cabin. Visit his toy store to select your very own gift!

This experience lasts 75 to 90 minutes and is for all the family

We offer corporate clients exclusive access to premium times for this event if booked before our launch date or we can offer companies specific dates for takeover with special discounted rates for larger groups. You will have a dedicated event manager from our team who will liaise with you and develop a plan for your specific needs.
